The young ladies in question were the daughters of Mr. Penrose, a wealthy timber merchant, a member of the Society of Friends, and a most humane and liberal gentleman, who will be remembered with the deepest gratitude for his kindness in sheltering in the bosom of his family, the sheltering in the bosom of his family, the unfortunate Sarah Curran after her secret with the martyred Robert Emmarriage with the martyred Robert Emmarriage with her family, deserted would are her family, deserted by her friends, she found in safe and secure retrent. Mr. Penrose, though a Quaker, was a true patriot, hur his patriotism was practical not theoretical slang!

Quaker patriot, Mr. Penrose.

Sarah and Rebecca Penrose were anxiously awaiting the return of their father from his office in the city. He was usually home at seven o'clock in the evening, and it was now hulf past eight, without his having made his appearance. It was Christmas Eve, and the city overflowing with worshippers of Bauchus, rather than of the pure Berng whose condescending visit to earth, and Nativity, they were about to celebrate. No wonder, then, the young ladies watched for the return of their parent with more than their usual solicitude.—Their mother being dead, he was doubly dear to them; and, in return, he was never happy out of their society.

Weary of watching, Surah at length exclaimed—"Sister, had we not better usk the butler or coachman to step down as far as Lover's Walk, and try if father is not coming? Thou knowest he is so punctual, and never breaks his word, and that he has told in the country of the city."

This the young stone and din of the city."

"I like thy suggestion, Sarah," answered Rebecca, "but think we had better accompa-Rebecca, "but think we had better accompany the domestics, first scenring the doors.—
Our maid, with the cook and housemaid, have all gone to the city to confession, and will not be back before ten o'clock. I am frightened to remain here, and would prefer walking to meet father, under the protection of the men servants. We shall remain in sight of the house, so that we may he near at hand when father passes either this or the lower road. Should be, however, not make his appearance by nine o'clock, we make his appearance by nine o'clock, we can send one of the neighbors up to the city, and try to discover the cause of his delay."

Saying this, the sisters rang the bell, and ordered the butler and coachman to accompany thom as far as Lover's Walk; also to seeme the doors, and let the watch-dog

John Hobson, the coachmen, was an Englishman from Huntingdonshire. Having traveled in the capacity of vallet with a gentleman, they came to visit the Lakes of Killarney, where his master died almost suddenly. Seeing an advertisement for a coachman, and having been fond of and account of the coachman of the c columnan, and having been fond of and ac-bustomed to, the management of horses from his childhood, he applied for the situ-tion by letter, and was desired to come to Cork, and try whether he would suit Mr. Penrose or not.

He was engaged at a very liberal salary, and found at Woodlawn a kind, excellent master. He was not overworked, for Mr. master, the was not occurred wealthy, and Peurose though immensely wealthy, and noving in the highest circles of society, sel-llow went out, except to attend the Meetlom went out, except to attend the Meeting House of the Friends, which still exsist in did Grattan street (now Duncan St.,

Pat O'Connell, the butler, agreed won-lerfully well with his English, fellow ser-vant. They were both extremely fond of a cant. They were both extremely fond of a cond joke, a good song, and a good bottle of whiskey, which they always managed to muggle into the house unknown to Mr. 'curose, who daily kept telling them that

'A spirit above and a spirit below,
A spirit of love, and a s .irit of woo;
The spirit above was a spirit divine,
But the spirit below was the spirit of wine."

"Arrah, masther," Pat would say! "ye shud try a dhrop o' the rale stuff some time, an the devil is in the diee, if ye wouldn't have a spirit movin ye down at thim meet-ngs! The Miasmatic Sickness at Washington.

The Providence Post of May 9th contains a most absurd article on the "National Hotel sickness," and only the probability that it was written in ignorance of the facts, saves it from being a wicked and gross misstatement. That any paper of the Post's pretensions to respectability should lend it self to the circulation of fabrications which are calculated to do infinite harm, is wonderful. Is there not, in God's name, crime enough in the world? Are our ears not full of the details of unaccountable villianies, from slaveholding to murder, that we shall have fancied crimes of most fearful and gigantic enormity trumped up, like ghouls to affright us, and offerly sink our faith in man's goodness? While our hearts are sad in the contemplation of crimes against society, and life, shall they be pulseless with horror before an infernality without parallel? The Post has taken a fearful responsibility It debases and corrupts the mind of its readers by the useless contemplation of imaginary crime, and we utterly denounce such a course, while humanity has real crime enough, to humiliate it and check its aspirations after goodness. The Post's statements, not to speak of its conclusions are untrue, and opposed to all the reliable evidence thus far elicited. It says

The circumstances of this case of poisoning are briefly as follows:—Mr. Buchanan arrived at the National Hotel in Washington on the 25th of January. On the next day appeared the first case of a new and strange disorder, giving all the more prominent indications of some poison of a mineral nature. Amongst the symptoms were vio lent purging, inflammation of the large in-testines and a swollen tongue. With almost precisely these symptoms, guest after guest was taken down, until, at the end of forty-cight hours, thirty-five of the inmates were confined to their beds. The President was siek, and immediately hastened to Whentland, where prompt medical assistance so improved his health that he was able to return to Washington on the 2d of March. Strange to say, from the time of his depart-ure until his return, not a single case of the disease occurred. On arriving again in the city, he took lodgings at the National, but declined eating or drinking upon the premi-ses. His symptoms did not return; but no sooner was be fairly domiciled in the house than the strange disorder again shew itself and with aggravated virulence and a much wider sweep. About seven hundred guests were attacked at nearly the same time, and of these at least twenty-five—some say thirty—have since died. Two classes or kinds of treatment have been applied to those who were taken down; and we are told that the remedies, where successfully employed, were for the most part of the nature of minera antidotes. In cases where the disease was treated as though of miasmitte origin, death has ensued, or the sufferings have been more protracted.

Should we call a portion of the above, ar abominable, and wicked per rersion of fact, we should hardly do justice to it. For a week or more before Mr. Buchanan came to Washington this disease was very prevalent at the National, Diarrhea being the prominent symptom, Mr. B.'s friends before he came, expressed fears that he might suffor from the sickness, but after being in the house a day or two he was attacked just exactly as many had been a week before his arrival, with a mild tyre of Cholera Morbus. The symptoms he exhibited were in common with the prevulent sickness, and did not at all resemble those of poisoning by Arsenic. Diarrhoea, attended with co pious, yellow, frothy discharges, retching and vomiting were the prominent ones. In no case that we have heard of was there infiammation of the lips, tongue, throat and esophagus, the symptoms of Arsenic poison ing. It is also true that the symptoms va-We ried materially in different cases. were told by Professor Carson of the versity of Pennsylvania only three days since, that he knew of cases where the true "Cholera symptoms" with collapse, were the only prominent ones.

Nothing we fear but a purpose, a fixed and interested purpose, could induce any one with the facts before him, to make such reckless statements. Observe again; the Part says "from the time of his departure till his return, not a case of the disease occurred." This statement is as groundless as the former. It is true, that many of the very worst cases occurred after Mr. Buchanan's departure,-shall we call the statement to the contrary a wilful fabrica tion, or ridiculous ignorance? Which horn of the dilemma will the Post take? There is one remarkable instance, proving the fallacy of this statement in this city. Rev Mr. Malcom paster of the Baptist Society, was attacked after Mr. B. had left for Wheatland and has not yet entirely recovered! Miraculous disappearance! The truth, which as before, is at variance with the statements of the Post, is this, -After Mr B. left, the sickness continued, until the warm days of Pebruary, when the hotel was thoroughly ventilated, and the pent up, poi sonous miasm of the house had an opportu nity of escaping, and during those days while the doors and windows were open, the sickness subsided, but when cold weather again set in, and the house was shut up, the sickness returned in an aggravated form.

But the Post has set itself up as high medical authority. We feel curious to know at what College of Physicians it graduated Has it a Diploma ?- and if not, on what ground has any man a right—a right we repeat, to ignore the facts as stated by the most eminent medical men on this side of the Atlantic, and set itself up as medical judge in the premises, and alarmist general. We think a newspaper is to be held responsible for whatever it states as facts, and we call upon the Post, for its evidence. Where is it? If it exists only in the diseased brain of some ignoramus, let us have it. If it is based upon the opinion of a capable and educated medical man, it is still more important, but unless there is some ground for such statements, we can only regard them as wicked, and injurious as well as discourteous to the professional men who have given their evidence upon the point. "Not one of the servants," proceeds the Post, "made any serious complaint." Does this statement bear examination any better than the preceding ones ?-The servants were scriously affected, and suffered more severely than the quests, in fact, the steward stated at an examination before the board of health, that the operations of the kitchen were nearly, suspended in consequence of the illness of the servants! But we need dwell no further. The testimony of Professor Jackson, the most eminent medical authority in the country, fortified by the personal experience of a score of eminent Physicians, among whom was Dr. W. A. Watson of this city, who not only attended many patients, but suffered himself from the disease, is enough on this point, but it is pleasant to reflect that we have a medical authority in the State, of the Post's astuteness. Can it find some better cause for Cholera, than miasma,-and furthermore, can it not tell us why, and by whom "Mr. Buchanan's life was threatened." It cannot escape the conviction that it was a deliberate attempt to destroy his life, can it not unfold that other suspicion that is harking in its scientific heart? Who was it-and why was it,-we pause for a re-

MR. HAMMOND-I have noticed with pleas ure the independent course pursued by your Journal, and it gives me great pleas We have long needed such a sheet to advance the interests, and defend the cause of our city. Your reply to the "Herald's" remarks was in the right vein, and entitles you to the hearty support of every Newporter. We who have houses to he be filled, and who would be the greatest sufferers in case Bennett's statements met with any general currency, and belief ought and I think will, be active in advancing your interests, as you are vigilant in protecting ours. Go ahead and finish up the good more, so that the public may be made to understand that the Herald is a humbugas it is.

We have recieved from A. J. Ward's Book and Music Store "The Family Circle Glee Book," published by Russell and Richardson, Boston, and compiled by Elias Howe. It is a very valuable collection of over two hundred selected airs, the selection of which does credit to the good taste of the compiler. Besides much modern music it contains many of the beautiful songs which have charmed us in our infancy and which will ever be appreciated so long as good music is appreciated for its innate worth.

This is just the book for a family and we should judge that no one would be without it if they were aware of its varied and well selecte d contents.

It is also a valuable collection for the use of Glee Clubs and Singing Schools as it contains many of the popular pieces of the day arranged and harmonized for four Probably few, if any, of our readers are aware of the locality of "Cod Fish Parlor"; there is such a resort on the Long Wharf, in the second story of the building occupied by Judge Trevett. It is fixed up and decorated in rather primitive style, and is occupied by Capt. Joseph Sherman, Capt-George Burdick and Cardinal Brown. Various maps and charts hang around the walls, and on the South side are a variety of fishing clothes, and the necessary implements for making war upon the inmates of the sea. Cardinal Brown has his desk and draughting materials in one corner, and around the room are chairs, a lounge and other facilities for taking comfort. In this room the affairs of the nation are discussed. and things generally settled as they ought to be according to the notions of the occu pants. "Cod Fish Parlor" is decidedly one of the institutions of the city, and in the summer time, is one of the most pleasant and comfortable localities in our midst.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH, BROOKLYN .-- On Sunday morning, May 3d, a scene of exceed ing interest was witnessed in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn. Eighty seven persons were recieved into the church, of whom fifty seven united on profession of their faith,-Of these about twenty received the ordinance of baptism, according to the usual mode of the church, while six others, who had requested the rite by immersion were baptized after that form on the Wednesday evening previous. This ceremony was per formed by the pastor, Rev. H. W. Beecher in the Boptist Church in Pierpont Street, whose officers had kindly offered their pulpit for the usual week-night lecture, and their baptistery for the administration of the ordinance. The communicants of Plymouth church now number more than nine hundred, while at the celebration of the communion, at the close of the sermon on Sunday morning, more than twelve hundred tarried to participate.

WILLOW CEMETERY .- Mr. Editor :-Dr. Henry E. Turner, has sent me, at my request, the following account of Willow Cemetery, which I submit to you, and re-H. JACKSON. nain very truly,

"The piece of ground on Warner street originally laid out as the Willow Cemetery, by Joseph G. Stevens, Esq., was purchased by him about twenty years ago of the heirs of Col. John Topham, (who was for Many years the owner of the same). It consisted of about four acres. In 1849 it was plotted by Charles E. Hammett, Jr., and divided into about 35 lots of 16 feet square, with convenient avenues. In the following winter a Company was formed and incorporated under the name of the "Willow cometery Company of the town of Newport," to which Co. the land was conveyed by Mr. Stevens on conditions; one of which was that one fourth of the proceeds go into the treasury of the Co., to be invested or expended for the benefit of the Trustees .-In 1854 the lot belonging to Albert Irish, on the corner of Spruce street, containing a little less than half an acre, was purchased hy Henry E. Turner, and transferred to the Co. with the provision that he should receive the purchase money for the lots; he paying into the Treasury the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars for the preceding objects. Soon after the estate of Mr. James Irish, formerly for many years the homestead of Mr. Samuel Almy, deceased, was purchased by Mr. Stevens; giving to the Cemetery a fine front on Warren street, with nearly five acres of land. In the following spring, the front was brought to a grade, corresponding to the street, and a substantial fence and gateway crected.— The whole No. of lots is about 450, of which 132 are taken up. The Trustees are Joseph P. Stevens, John Taylor, Geo. Burdick, B. H. Ailmar, and H. E. Turner. Joseph Stevens, President, and H. E. Turnor, Secretary and Treasurer."

Our readers will percieve that we have been obliged to curtail our reading matter a little to-day, on account of the unusual press of advertisements which we have been compelled to put in. We hope to get rid of some of them tomorrow if we have good lock.

GENERAL NEWS.

SAD DEATH OF WILLARD THE ARTIST. Henry Willard, the Well known portrait painter, of Tremont Row, in this city, says the Boston Traveller of Thursday, evening, came to his death in Malden, at the junction of the Medford Branch of the Buston and Maine Railroad, at about eight clock, last evening, under the following disfressing circumstances. Mr. Willard, who, for thirty years was a resident of this city, about six months since removed to New York .--He had been here for a few days on a visit, and yesterday afternoon started for Medford to return with his sister, who was on a visit to the house of Doctor Jenks. They intended to take the seven P. M. train, which however, omitted on Wednesday. Mr. Willard then decided to walk to the city leaving his sister to return to the home of her hosts.

As Mr. Willard started, with one or two others, his sister cautioned him to be careful He had about reached the Medford switch when a train was seen coming from the city. To avoid the train, they stepped upon the other track, and observing that the inward Express train from Portland was approaching. The last train struck Mr. Willard, mangling his skull in a horrible manner and breaking nearly every bone in his body. Of course he died instantaneously. A companion named Woodworth, was struck so as partially to stun him, but was able tobe about this morning.

Mr. Willard was an unmarried man about 55 years of age. He stood high in his profession, and his sad death will be generally regretted by hosts of friends. He was a native of Charlton, Worcester county, where the remains will be carried for interment.-In 1856-7,Mr. Willard was in Washington where he painted the portraits of Col. De Witt, of Mass., Mr. Sears of the National Intelligencer, and others, some of which have been exhibited at the Boston Athenæum.

THE DALTON DIVORCE CASE IN BOSTON The Dalton divorce case was given to the jusy at 6 o'clock on Friday evening, after a charge by Judge Merrick. It is doubtful if charge by Judge Merrick. It is doubtful if the jury agree on a verdict before to-day.— Judge Merrick, who is in ill health, at the close of his charge fainted and was carried from the court room by the Sheriff and others. He soon revived, but was evidently greatly prostrated by the fatigue of his protracted trial and the atmosphere of an ver crowded court room.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 8, 1857. There was a Cabinet meeting to-day and it is reported that the recent rejection of the Dallas-Clarendon treaty was under consideration. The Cabinet are said to be a unit on this important subject. They believe that the statement of the British government is correct as to Rustan, but do not esteem it a sufficient reason for the rejection of the treaty. It is stated that Lord Nanier deeply regrets the altered condition of things. Lord Napier also received dispatches inclosing a copy of the correspondence between Mr. Dallas and Lord Clarendon respecting the sejected treaty, and will commonicate it to our Government. Mr. Dallas, in a letter to Gen. Cass, expresses the opinion that if the treaty had reached England prior to the election it would undoubted have been ratified.

PROFESSOR WOUD offers for sale perfect HAIR RESTORATIVE. It in a short time restore the Hair, which habecome gray prematurely, to its original colobring it out where it is gone, and arresti when it is falling off-cleause the head of dandrulf and itchings—remove all cutaneous eruptions, and render the scalp perfectly healthy, by restoring the sceretive organs to their original vigor and strongth, and thus supply nutriment und coloring matter to the roots. It does not Dye the hair, but is, in short a perfect Hair Invigorator and Tonic.

To the young, who so much admire the beautiful locks and ringlet, he feels that the will be pardoned if he offers the advice suggested by long study and extensive observation. It is to discard all cologne and stimulating disfor the hair, and keep always upon the toilet a buttle of the Restorative for occasional use and we can safely predict, that henceforth silver locks will be upon bald heads. Let the dark cye be ever so pieroing, and the teeth be those of pearl—still, if the dark cye be ever so pieroing, and in consequence becomes first dead and harsh, then gray, or falls off nature will be robbed of more than half its charms; no it is a soveried removed to the hair and scalp as is calculated to preserve both in a healthy state.

18 LET—T maisture and vigor of the hair, which, before was harsh and dry, and it has ceased to come out as formerly.

Respectfully yours,
D. C. M. RUPP.
Milford, Woreester Co., Mass., Nov. 13th, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir—I take pleas are in hearing voluntary testimony to the magic effects of your wonderful Hair Restor ative. As far back as 1856 my hair sommenced falling off until the top of my scalp became bald and smooth as glass, and it has continued to fall off for a great many years, notwith-standing! have used many celebrated preparations for its restoration. Seeing your advertisement! was induced to give your article a trial, and to my utter astonishment! found after a few applications that my hair became firmly set and jassured by very glossy and beautiful appearance; and at the time! I had used a quart bottle, my bald bead was covered over with a young and vigorous growth of hair, which is now from one to two inches in length, and growing very fast.

Yours, truly,
HEKRIY GOODRICH.
Carlyle, Ill., June 27, 1856.
I have used Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and as I thought permanently gray, but by the use of his Restorative, it has resumed its original color, and I have no doubt permanently so.

TREES AND SHRUBBERY. TREES! TREES!! TREES!!! ORNAMENTAL SHRUBBERY! Eagle Nursery, Elmwood. SILAS Moone, Proprietor.

The subscriber would respectfully call the attention of the public to his extensive and well assorted nursery stock of Trees, Plants, Vince and Shrubbery, which he has been expected in Plants of the on hand at his nursery in Elimwood, in Crans-ton, only 1 1-2 miles from the centre of Provi-dence.

on hand at master of the centre of Providence.

To his former extensive stock he has made great additions of the several varieties, and fatters himself that no nursery in the vicinity of Providence contains so large a stock, or so great a variety of all kinds of articles in his line of bosiness. He would call especial attention to his stock of Fruit Trees, amounting to more than 50,000—a large proportion of which are of extra site and in bearing condition. Among them may be found the Pear, Peach, Plum, Nectavine, Apricot, Quinne, Apple, Cherry, and all the different variety known to the American gardner.

The Hartford Prolific Grape Vine, the most believous and profitable variety of Grapes to be found in this climate, may be had in large quantities and in the most healthy condition. This Grape is new to this part of the country, is very rapid in its growth, bears in greater abundance, and ripens at least two weeks carlier than the Isabella Grape. Also every other variety of Grape Vines.

The "New Rechelle," or "Lawton Bluckberry," a new article to our gardens, may also be found at the Eagle Nursery in quantities to supply the market. This Berry is much sought after, and is a very profitable one to cultivate.

Ornamental Trees, of every hardy variety, sought after, and is a very prolitable one to cultivate.

Ornamental Trees, of every hardy variety, and every article constantly on hand necessary for a complete assurtment of nursery stock; all of which will be sold at as low, if not low er prices, than the same articles can be found at any other nursery in this vicinity.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

Simplicity of English Dress.

In the families of many of the nobility and gentry of England, possessing an annual income which, of itself, would be an amply fortune, there is greater economy of dress, and more simplicity in the furnishing of the dwelling, than there is in many of the houses of our citizens, who are barely able to supply the wants of their families by the closest attention to their business.-A friend of ours, who sojourned, not long since, several months in the vicinity, of some of the wealthy lauded aristocracy of England, whose ample rent-rolls would have warranted a high style of fashion, was smprised at the simplicity of manners practiced. Servants were much more numerous than with us, but the ladies made more account of one silk dress than would be thought here of a dozen. They were generally clothed in good substantial stuffs, and a display of fine clothing and jewelry was reserved for great generations. The furniture of the mangreat occasions. The furniture of the man-sions, instead of being turned out of doors every few years, for new and fashionable styles, was the same which the ancestors of the families for several generations had pos-sessed—substantial and in excellent preservation, but plain, and without any pretensions to clegance. Even the carpets, on many suits of pariors, had been on the floors for fifty years, and were expected to do service for another half century. With us how different is the state of thiogs! We are wasting an arount of wealth in this country, on show and fashion, which, if rightly applied would reprove to be applied well as the plied, would renovate the condition of the whole population of the world, and Christianize, civilize and educate, all mankind .-

dered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dullar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpased by if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them clsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE SUCCESS IS THE—HEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The tommense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accountate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These esides his extensive library of legal and mephanishal works, and full accounts of patent granted in the United States and Europe render him able, beyond question, to offer superor facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Epston did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of procuring Patents. There were fewl if any persons acting in that capacity, who) had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Sulicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a personnore competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the the Patent Office, is EDM UND BURKE,

THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE AGE.

A REMEDY which CURES IN FIVE MINUTES.—M. LEROUN'S French Chalera Cognae Bitters. This truly wonderful scientific compound is recommended by the most eminent and learned physicians of all Furnme and America, and enjoys the best representations. Burope and America, and enjoys the best rep-utation of anything similar ever offered. It is without doubt, the best most efficient and genutation of anything similar ever offered. It is without doubt, the best most efficient and generally acknowledged remedy against cholera, dysentery, diarrhoea, and complaints of the stomach in general. The nomerous patients who have tried it according to directions have invariably found relief in a very short time, and the best proof of it is, that since this standard remedy was introduced in the armics of the Allies in the Crinea, the mortality of the soldiers from cholera and similar diseases was diminished by over 75 per cent.; in consideration of which, the inventor was presented by the French and English governments with a gold medal, bearing the inscription, "Hail? M Leroux, the great chemist and inventor by whose knowledge our armies are preserved from cholera."

This invaluable preparation is also a remedy for billiousness, indigestion, weakness, and general derangement of the stomach. Upon being taken, it creates appetite, and prevents the heaviness attendant upon cating by persons who are dyspeptic.

In this city, also this remedy has been tried with the most undoubted success, and the undersigned can produce the best testimonials of our most celebrated physicians, as to its immediate and complete success, which he will be happy at any time to show to any that may visit to see them.
